this phd thesis is dedicated to a subfield of elementary particle physics called flavour physics the standard model of particle physics sm has been confirmed by thousands of experimental measurements with a high precision but the sm leaves important questions open like what is the nature of dark matter or what is the origin of the matter antimatter asymmetry in the universe by comparing high precision standard model calculations with extremely precise measurements one can find the first glimpses of the physics beyond the sm currently we see the first hints of a potential breakdown of the sm in flavour observables this can then be compared with purely theoretical considerations about new physics models known as model building both precision calculations and model building are extremely specialised fields and this outstanding thesis contributes significantly to both topics within the field of flavour physics and sheds new light on the observed anomalies
